37th Annual RLPSA Award Recipients Announced

ATLANTA, August 16, 2016 – Restaurant Loss Prevention & Security Association (RLPSA) announces its 37th Annual Award Recipients, selected for their strong leadership and innovative approaches to business challenges, while going “above and beyond” daily responsibilities to make a difference in restaurant loss prevention and security.

The 2016 RLPSA Salute to Excellence Award is awarded to Jeff Levitt in recognition of his excellence in restaurant security through contributions to security programs that protect restaurant employees, customers, data and assets. Levitt has been providing a safe environment for more than 8.3 million customers a week at Panera, LLC. Levitt has proven to be a thought leader that employs innovative strategies to address restaurant security challenges.

The 2016 RLPSA Distinguished Service Award is awarded to Ryan Berkey in recognition of his commitment to serving others in the Loss Prevention industry; making a difference and demonstrating creativity and compassion by developing programs that leave a lasting impact on those he has served for the last 25 years. Berkey designed the in-house exception base reporting to identify losses in 4 key loss prevention metrics which impact his company’s bottom line. For Dominos, this program improved bottom line results totaling over $3.6 million in 2015.

RLPSA also awarded Lifetime Achievement Awards to founding fathers Emil Monda and Tom Briggs, for their foundational and pioneering work to start the RLPSA organization over 40 years ago.

About RLPSA

The Restaurant Loss Prevention and Security Association (formerly NFSSC) is an exclusive community of loss prevention professionals focused on helping its members minimize losses and reduce liabilities within the restaurant and food industries. We are industry leaders sharing our collective expertise, knowledge and solutions to the challenges we face every day. Our goal is to make our members more efficient and successful in their careers by serving as the “go-to” resource for restaurant and food industry loss prevention and security professionals.

As a member-run organization, we share information about industry trends and connect a network of peers who understand the unique challenges of the job, and who collaborate to find the next best solution. We create a forum for discussion and problem-solving so that our members benefit from shared expertise. We provide professional development opportunities that are designed to meet the specific interests and concerns of restaurant and food industry professionals, and we advocate for regulations that will make our workplaces more safe and secure.
