RLPSA Releases Exclusive Educational Resource

ATLANTA, February 15, 2017 – The Restaurant Loss Prevention & Security Association (RLPSA) is proud to announce the release of a members-only video that provides a never-before-seen view inside some of the industry’s leading restaurant safety programs.

This safety video can be found under the Safety of Employees and the Safety of Customers sections in the Topic Centers portion of RLPSA’s new website. The video can also be found here: rlpsa.com/topic-centers. Other highly educational and informative topics ranging from Crisis Management and Insurance Fraud, to Robbery Prevention and Workplace Safety, can also be found in the website’s Topic Centers section.

RLPSA’s Board President, David Johnston, said, “We are dedicated to sharing resources, expertise, and knowledge amongst our peer community. We are proud to be continually adding relevant educational and informative resources.”

RLPSA is the only association dedicated to restaurant and food service loss prevention, security, safety and risk professionals. As a member-run organization, RLPSA shares information about industry trends and connects a network of peers who understand the unique challenges of the job, and who collaborate to find the next best solution.

Members are encouraged to participate in its 38th Annual Conference & Expo in Las Vegas July 30 – August 2, 2017. To learn more information, or to register for the annual conference, visit: rlpsaannualconference.com.

RLPSA’s would like to thank the following restaurant brands who made this safety film possible: Cracker Barrel, The Cheesecake Factory, Domino’s, Little Caesars’ Enterprises, Panda Express Restaurant Group, and BLD Brands.
